HAPPENINGS OF THE PAST WEEK

Current Events Related In Dispatches From Many Correspondents In Various Parts of the West.

The steamer Whittier, towing the barkentine Fullerton and barge Santa Paula, has sailed for Honolulu via San Francisco with 35,000 barrels of Ventura county crude oil.

The plumbers' strike, which has been on at Portland for six weeks, has been declared off, the men returning to work at the old wages, $4.50 per day. They demanded $5 per day.

Francisco Martinez of Salinas, the Mexican charged by Mrs. S. Washburn, aged 72, of Seaside, with criminal assault, was given a preliminary hearing and held to answer in default of $5000 bail.

The steamship Indrapura has sailed from Portland for Hongkong and Yokohama with 52,576 barrels of flour. In addition to her flour cargo the Indrapura carried 1510 boxes of Oregon apples for Chinese and Japanese ports.

A fire destroyed the long line of sheds at the race track on the Alameda, at San Jose, together with seventy tons of hay and a hay press belonging to a man named Bradshaw. The buildings were the property of the Agricultural Association. The total loss is about $3000. It is partly covered by insurance.

E. A. Fano, a business man of San Diego, has just returned from Riverside county, where he purchased the famous Big Pink and Little Blue tourmaline mines, considered one of the most important mineral discoveries in Southern California. Work is being prosecuted on the 600-foot ledge. A number of beautiful specimens were brought in.

The projected Vallejo-Benicia-Napa electric railroad has been financed and a large corps of engineers are in the field. The company is opening offices in Vallejo and orders for material for the road have been placed. The Hatch Brothers steamboat line is counting on a large increase in business upon the completion of the new road and is having built in San Francisco an additional steamer to cost $225,000.

The body of Mrs. A. J. Morris, of San Diego, who has been missing since last Monday night, was found in the bay near National City, where it had drifted from the Santa Fe wharf, a distance of three miles from where she was last seen. She had evidently carried out her oft-repeated threat of suicide while laboring under temporary mental derangement, as there were no visible evidences of foul play.

Six of the Chinese who were arrested by the inspectors of San Francisco when the last batch came down on the Alaskan fishing fleet produced certificates when they appeared before Judge Heacock. They testified that they became laboreres because they ran out of funds. The Judge ordered, however, that they be deported. He held that the law made it plain that Chinese entering this country as students should have sufficient means for their support.

Dr. Albert F. Sawyer, of San Diego, who died in that city, was a forty-niner and figured in the pioneer history of the State. He was one of the surgeons who attended President Garfield when he was shot. Dr. Sawyer recommended an operation upon the wounded President, but his suggestion was not acted upon. Years ago Dr. Sawyer was one of the most noted physicians in the country. He had been an invalid for a long time prior to his death. He was a native of Medford, Mass.

Carroll Holman Keller, an attorney of Philadelphia, was at Bakersfield in the interest of certain persons in that city who, years ago, were induced to purchase lots of a mythical town called Santa Marguerita, located in that county. The scheme was floated by Eastern promoters and the town existed only on paper, the lands now being inhabited by lizards and horned toads. A glowing prospectus showing a finely built town with handsome, substantial buildings and well paved streets was issued, and thousands of dollars were invested. Recently some of the victims read in a Philadelphia paper that some lands had been sold in the vicinity of Bakersfield for $13,000 an acre, and sent Mr. Keller here to investigate. No such sale has been made and the lands included in the mythical town of Santa Marguerita have long since lapsed to the State for unpaid taxes.

A Pasadena special says that the Japanese are coming into popularity as bell-boys. The hotel Maryland will have Japanese bell-boys this year, and it is rumored that the management of the Hotel Green intends to do the same. Already the Maryland has one or two Japs hopping up and down stairs. The reason the Japanese are coming into popularity as bell-hops,' explained one of the members of the syndicate that owns the Maryland, "is on account of their perfect honesty. They never think of stealing things, while the average American boys sometimes do." Proprietor M. M. Potter of the Potter, also favors Japanese. He says it was frequently the case that small sums of money, articles of jewelry and so forth were missing. Once $35 was taken, again $5, and many times smaller sums. Since the Japanese had been tried, however, not a penny had been reported missing.

A number of expert horticulturists have left San Bernardino for the mountains to investigate the report that an insect similar to the Dokota beetle had begun to attack the pine trees in the San Bernardino forest reserve, and that thousands of the trees have already been killed. It is stated that the insects lay their eggs beneath the bark and the young feed upon the soft bark. Attention as first called to it by the forest rangers, who believed some malicious person had driven nails into the trunk of the trees. They reported the matter to Superintendent Bartlett, who has found that it is widespread. His suspicions were aroused when, on tearing off the bark, he saw clouds of insects take flight. Acting on his report, a party of experts have gone to the region to more thoroughly investigate and if possible discover a remedy. Every pine tree on the mountains is threatened.

BRADSTREET'S WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Lower Prices for Metals Point the Way for Future Large Business Dealings.

New York.—Bradstreet's Weekly Review of Trade says: Mixed trade and crop conditions still present themselves, although some improvement in tone is noted where crop estimates, as in the case of corn, show expansion. Lower prices for cereals point the way of future large business and indicate a larger foreign interest in our farm products. Trade reports vary with sections considered, the best reports coming from the Southwest, the Northwest and the Pacific Coast. Spotted trade reports come from sections of the middle West. From the South the reports are in the main favorable as to trade and collections, but crop deterioration is widespread, except from the lower Mississippi Valley. Falling prices for cotton, though a hopeful sign for our export trade and domestic manufactures, do not excite lively satisfaction among producers.

Lumber is showing a seasonable quieting down and some weakness in white pine is noted at the West, though aside from leading Eastern centers, the building trades are still active.

A really favorable feature this week is the improvement of collections West and Northwest, the reflection of the beginning of the movement of delayed crops to market.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending October 1st number 153, against 185 last week. In Canada failures for the week number 10, as against 18 last week.

Rich Flow of Natural Gas.

Ventura.—The efforts of the Ventura Light, Heat and Power Company to develop natural gas in the bed of the Ojai river have proved successful and a franchise has been asked of the Board of Town Trustees by a separate company, organized for the purpose of furnishing this gas for domestic uses. One well has a flow of 7000 feet of natural gas. If the experiment is successful this city will be the first in the State to use natural gas for domestic purposes.

Spies at the Navy Yard.

New York.—It is reported from the New York Navy Yard that two strangers who gained entrance through the regulation visitors' pass have been surprised in the act of taking expert notes on the battleship Connecticut, now being constructed. One of the men was observing the work through a glass and dictating notes to his companion. The matter was reported by a foreman and the visitors were requested to leave the yard immediately.

Disastrous Fire.

Utica, N. Y.—James Beckwood's sounding board factory at Dolgeville, the principal industry of that village, was destroyed by fire with a loss of $100,000.

THREE SAILORS ARE DROWNED WHILE AT SEA

The Ship Marion Chilcott Has a Terrible Experience On Last Voyage.

ENCOUNTERS VERY HEAVY WEATHER

Captain Williams Has a Narrow Escape From Being Washed Overboard While His Mate and a Seaman Is Injured.

Honolulu.—The ship Marion Chilcott arrived here Thursday afternoon, thirteen days from San Francisco, after one of the worst experiences a vessel ever had between these two ports. She lost three men overboard, and her captain narrowly escaped a similar fate. The mate has a fractured ankle, and another seaman was severely injured.

The Marion Chilcott struck a terrific gale immediately after leaving San Francisco. She was heavily laden, and did not ride buoyantly. In order to save his vessel from being beaten by the seas Captain Williams let her run before the wind. On the first day Mate Arthur Brown and Seaman Smith were struck by a wave that swept over the vessel. Brown's ankle was broken and Smith was seriously injured.

Next morning the captain, second mate and five seamen were hauling on the port fore brace when a big sea boarded the vessel astern, swept three of the sailors overboard and smashed the lifeboat. The captain saved himself by clinging to the starboard forward sheets. The mate and the other men were swept overboard, but hung on to the sheets and were rescued with difficulty.

The men who were lost were S. E. H. Rasmussen and Anton P. D. Lashe, natives of Denmark, and Gustav A. H. Graves, a native of Germany. Their effects have been turned over to the United States Shipping Commisioners.

PLOT TO RUIN BROOKLYN GIRLS.

Sunday-School Teachers and Chinese Are Involved in Scheme.

New York--On information furnished by girls of fender age, the Brooklyn police rounded up and arrested all the Chinese laundrymen they could find in the outlying wards of Brooklyn. Later, four were discharged for lack of evidence. According to the statement made by the police captain who superintended the work of raiding, many of the Chinese learned what was to happen and fled after closing their places of business. No less than fifty Chinese laundrymen, whose places are in the Stuyvesant Heights district, one of the choice residence sections of Brooklyn, are implicated. In connection with the case, warrants have also been issued for the arrest of a married woman, a Chinese merchant and a girl 17 years old, all of whom the police say were in a plot to bring about the ruin of Brooklyn girls.

Six Chinese are in jail. Lizzie Kane, aged 17, and Minnie Brenan, 14, were arrested in Tom Wah' laundry. They confessed to the plot. A white woman named Katz is implicated.

Many fashionably dressed women visited the police station and wept in the corridors of the cells. They told the police they were "Sunday-school teachers" of the Chinese behind the bars. The Chinese nodded assent and explained to their teachers that it was not their own fault that they had fallen from grace, but the fault of the girls.

The "Sunday-school teachers" were very indignant over the arrests. One of them said the police ought to spank the girls who confessed and not have listened to them. Another said the girls should be sent to prison for long terms for leading the Chinese astray. Several "Sunday-school teachers" brought the imprisoned Chinese roses and fruit.

Lives on Five Cents a Day.

Buenos Ayres, Argentina.—Senor Astorga, a former officer in the Argentine navy, recently declared that it was possible to live on bread and oranges at an expense of 5 cents a day without impairing one's health or causing any loss of strength. To prove his assertions he tried the experiment, and recently rode 210 miles on horseback without rest.

SONOMA'S FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The committee appointed by the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club, namely, Miss Alice Humphreys, Miss Mattie Goodman and Miss Minnie F. Cooke, have so far met with encouragement enough to justify the renting of a room for a free public library for Sonoma. Miss Cooke, Mrs. R. P. Hill and Mrs. Wagnon, committee on selecting a place, have rented the front room of the I. O. O. F. Building on Broadway, formerly occupied by Hugh Maxwell as a studio, and expect to have the books, magazines, etc., here in a few days.

The library will be kept open five nights in the week. It will be open on Saturday afternoons instead of Saturday nights and will not be open Sundays. The different members of the club will take turns at being librarian.

Notice of the day of opening the free public library of Sonoma will be given in due time.

Grayville vs Ah Chung.

The case of Grayville vs Ah Chung was tried before Justice of the Peace Small last Saturday morning. This was the case in which Mr. Grayville sought to have Ah Chung placed under bonds to keep the peace to keep him from carrying out alleged threats to kill.

Many witnesses were called and the good and peaceable character of the Chinaman was proven.

After hearing the testimony, the remarks of the attorney for the prosecution and the eloquent appeal of Ranald McDonnel, counsel for the defense, Judge Small dismissed the defendant, Ah Chung.

KICKED BY A COLT.

Deep Gash Cut Above the Eye and Orbital Bone Broken--Eight-Year-Old Edith Padroncelli in Critical Condition.

Last Monday morning eight-year-old Edith Padroncelli, daughter of Frank Padroncelli of Kenwood, was kicked in the face by a colt and severely injured. At the time of the accident the little girl was playing around the animal. The animals hoof cut a long, deep gash above the little girl's left eye resulting in the fracturing of the orbital bone. She was also severely bruised. Fortunately the colt was unshod or the results would have been more serious.

It is to be hoped that the child will get along nicely. At the last report she was resting easy. Dr. J. H. McLeod was summoned to attend the injuries.

Wedding Bells.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawler of Schellville, formerly of Petaluma have announced the betrothal of their youngest daughter, Miss Grace, to Stephen Henderson Akers, of Petaluma.

Miss Grace Lawler is a highly esteemed young lady of Schellville and has many friends there and in Sonoma. The wedding date has not been set.

The happy young couple will reside in Petaluma where the groom is engaged in a prosperous business.

Mrs. Garniss Hurt

Last Tuesday afternoon while Mrs. B. R. Garniss was driving near the cemetery on Napa street, the horse she was driving became unmanageable and ran away throwing the lady out. Her clothing catching as she was thrown out. She was dragged a considerale distance before she was released. A physician was hurriedly summoned [illegible] that the unfortunate lady had sustained a fracture of the collar bone and suffered from a number of cuts and bruises.

At last reports Mrs. Garniss was felling as well as could be expected and it is sincerely hoped by her wide circle of friends in Sonoma Valley that she will speedily recover from the distressing accident.

CARD OF THANKS.

I take this opportunity to thank the public and the Honorable Board of Trustees for their kind treatment of me in my efforts to supply the city of Sonoma with electric lights. At the present time nearly all the patrons of the old lighting company have signed contracts with me for lights at the old rates.

The big power company expects to have their line installed in two weeks and in that case the lights will be turned on by November 1, 1903.

Yours truly,
C. T. Ryland.

Companionship.

'Tis not the cordial hand clasp, or the touch of lip to lip,
The casual meeting in the home or highway with a friend,
Tho' smiles and tears and loving words a charm to life e'er lend, Alone these do not constitute the true companionship,
'Tis something subtler far than these
the spirit doth equip,
For that communion which exalts us
e'en to fields Elysian;
The glory which illumines all our poor earthly vision,
When care of earth being banished,
we from Heaven's own chalice sip,
'Tis when congenial spirits on life's ocean fondly meet,
When as towards th' eternal shore
the billows onward roll,
Sympathy and purest love round out
our lives complete,
When we find beloved names inscribed on friendship's scroll,
When to us comes that love that knows no wavering, no defeat,
When heart responds to heart and soul answereth unto soul.

Earle Allen.

Sonoma Valley, Sept., 1903.

California Brick and Pottery Co.

We were pleased to meet Mr. James H. Hornsby, the able and agreeable gentleman who has been appointed superintendent of the above-named company.

He is overseeing the placing of many thousand dollars' worth of the latest improved machinery for the manufacture of all kinds of brick and pottery and the erection of drying sheds and other buildings necessary for a large up-to-date plant.

Mr. Hornsby states that the supply of the right kind of clay is practically unlimited and that the company will need a large force of men all the year round to make the 60,000 bricks per day they will begin to turn out within a few weeks.

Crude oil will be used in the 60-horse-power engine already in place to run the machinery for the plant.

Mr. Hornsby expects soon to have his interesting family of wife and seven children with him to reside in Glen Ellen, where Mr. Chauvet, one of the heaviest stockholders of the company, will erect him a modern and commodious home.

Sonoma Valley is to be congratulated on securing these valuable additions to her many thriving industries.

GLEN ELLEN AND VICINITY.

The Expositor Man Sees Many Evidences of Growth and Prosperity.

Although the summer season is about over in the busy little town among the hills in the upper part of the valley, the business men say they are satisfied and that there is an increase over the sales of last year at this time.

A visit to Dr. O'Donnell's brick yard convinces one that the doctor has a fine piece of property which he is fast developing with his characteristic energy and enterprise. Large consignments of brick are being shipped daily to San Francisco and intermediate points.

One kiln of [illegible],000 will soon be entirely sold and shipped and another kiln containing a like number is ready to be burnt.

During the busy season about 20 men are employed here. Many thousand cords are consumed in the burning of the bricks.

The genial Mr. Payne, the village blacksmith, was called upon, but his shop was so full of interfering horses, whose interfering he was so busy stopping that the visitor's interference could not be allowed. However, the conversation was so interferred with that the woodworker interfered and asked the reporter to call again soon, when he hoped that nothing would interfere with an interview.

An Estimable Lady Passes to Her Reward

Mrs. T. C. Futnam, wife of former Supervisor from the 1st. Dist. passed away at her home near Petaluma last Sunday morning at nine o'clock. She was an excellent wife and mother and a lady of a very lovable disposition and high Christian character.

The news of her demise was received with profound regret in the community where she lived and where she was greatly beloved by a wide circle of friends and relatives.

The sincere sympathy is felt for the bereaved ones in their great loss.

The funeral took place in Petaluma last Tuesday, Rev. W. H. Darden of the Presbyterian Church officiating.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Mrs. Gaswell—The Czar of Russia has now four little daughters. Mrs. Malaprop—Oh, the dear little Czardines.

Stella—But aren't you afraid of going out beyond your depth? Bella—Oh, no! All the men around here think I'm an heiress.—Puck.

Caroline Doss—Winifred expect many wedding presents? Margaret—Oh, yes; but she has no idea she will receive as many as she expects.

Gertrude—Uncle, what would you advise me to do to find a husband? Uncle Gayboy—Let the husbands alone, my dear. Look out for a single man.

Helen—I have just refused to marry Mr. Gingerly. Edith—Oh! Did he propose? Helen—Well, I can't say positively, but that is how I construed his incoherent remarks.

He—It is said that many railway engineers have real affection for their locomotives. She—I wonder if the locomotives ever reciprocate? He—Certainly they do. They all have tender attachments.

"Sir!" cried Mr. Pecksniff, indignantly, "how dare you accuse me of such things? My reputation, sir, is spotless." Your reputation may be, sir," replied the detective, "but you're not. We spotted you some time ago."

"So you don't mind my piano-playing, Mr. Skorcher?" remarked Miss Nexdore. "Not at all," replied Skorcher. "I like it best when you're coasting." "When I'm coasting?" "Yes, when you keep your feet off the pedals."

Friends of the family: "I see your neighbors, the Highmores, have shut their immense house up. Mrs. Highmore told me the other day they were going somewhere into the interior for the summer." "They've gone further back than that. They are living in the kitchen."—Chicago Tribune.

The commercial sense: Suburbs—But I tell you I haven't any use for a stable. Real Estate Agent—But, man, this is the only barn in this region, and it is so situated that you can make twice your mortgage interest by having patent medicine advertisements painted all over it.—Judge.

Kind Lady—How many are there in the family besides yourself? Little Amy—Four—mamma, papa, sister and a distant relative. "That is only three. The distant relative is not a member of the family." "Oh, yes, he is. He is my brother." "Your brother? Then he isn't a distant relative." "Yes, ma'am—he is in the Philippines!"

"I have decided to study dentistry," said the young man. "It is a fine profession; but do you think it would suit your tastes?" "I'm sure of it. You see, I'm naturally a great practical joker. TWO STOCK EXCHANGES.

Differences Between the New York and Berlin Institutions.

If any member of the New York Stock Exchange who is entirely unacquainted with German speculation should visit the Berlin bourse he would find at every point the most striking divergencies from his home experience. He would be surprised to see the bourse attended by quite 2,000 persons, including clerks of banks, newspaper men and even visitors like himself. Also, he would be interested in the immense size of the hall—300 feet long, divided by colonnades into three sections, one of which is assigned to the Produce Exchange. On one side of the hall several doors open into a grassy court, shaded by trees and surrounded by a pillared lobby, where brokers sit in dull summer days and float their latest stock of anecdotes.

That shaded court is suggestive of deeper differences between the New York Stock Exchange and the Berlin institution. In New York the number of members is fixed and is small in proportion to the immense volume of business done. In Berlin there is a great horde of small dealers, and the amount of trading is much less than in New York. Owing to the easy terms of admission, the bourse becomes a mere place where traders meet to effect their transactions. There is no sale of seats. In fact, no membership fee exists, but only a small yearly tax is collected, which varies from time to time as the expenses of the organization require. Contrary to New York practice, membership is largely held by companies and firms. Nearly all the banks of the city, for example, are members, and the more important ones keep above a score of their employees on the floor. Thus the individual New York broker, as a rule, counts for vastly more than a member of the bourse. New York is concentrated, is intense. Berlin disperses its energy, and is comparatively dull. It knows nothing of those great days of triumph or disaster that render the annals of Wall street picturesque. And it lacks our large daring operators who startle the country with their bold schemes.—William C. Dreher in Century.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

Rolling ground is the best for an orchard.

Blighted leaves and branches on fruit trees should be cut off and burned.

That a tree does not bear well every year is not an indication of disease.

Most effective pruning is done in the early stages of the orchard's growth.

One advantage in pruning during the summer is that the wounds heal very quickly.

Dead branches are often the means of conveying decay to an otherwise healthy trunk.

In pruning roses cutting back closely produces, as a rule, fewer blossoms, but of a finer quality.

Never prune a tree unless there is good reason why a limb or branch should be taken off.

A moderately heavy soil that has been underdrained and subsoiled and then carefully worked is capable of producing the heaviest crops of fruit.

His Mark In the World.

"I reckon Josh 'll make his mark in the world one of these days," said the fond mother.

Solicitous About Him.

An artist who was spending a month in the neighborhood had asked Mrs. Lawton's permission to make a sketch of the little bridge in her meadow. The permission was given, and Bobby had been spending the morning with the artist.

"I stood close to him all the time," announced Bobby triumphantly, "and I watched him, and I talked to him a good deal so he wouldn't be lonesome."

"I'm afraid perhaps you bothered him, dear," said Bobby's doting mother.

"Oh, no, I didn't, mother," said Bobby. "He liked me. He said he was real interested in me, for he said at his watch so he could tell me when 12 o'clock came, so I wouldn't be late for dinner. He even made me show him what thick shoes I had on, for he said 'twas so damp he was most afraid I might catch cold."

An Egyptian Story.

Here is a strange story from Egypt: Taha Ali and Ahmed Hamad carried on the business of butchers in partnership. Taha Ali informed Ahmed Hamad that a sum of money belonging to the partnership which had been left with him had been stolen. Ahmed Hamad did not believe the story and accused Taha Ali of theft. They decided to refer the matter to a fakir who had settled in the neighborhood, to be tried by a system of ordeal. The two men accordingly went to the fakir. Lime sprinkled on the shelves will keep pickles and jam in the storeroom from becoming moldy. The lime must be renewed occasionally, as it loses its power.

Cauliflower is good eaten cold as well as hot. Boil without breaking the head and throw into cold water until wanted. Tear the roses apart carefully, dry, and put in a salad bowl with lettuce leaves. Serve with mayonnaise.

To clear a house of beetles take a pound of powdered borax and put it into a tin with a perforated lid. Next dust the borax lightly over the floor, on the walls, and into cupboards—everywhere, in fact, where the pests are found—and they will soon disappear.

Ice cream with hot chocolate sauce is considered a dessert par excellence by many. For the sauce melt one ounce of unsweetened chocolate in half a cup of hot water, add one cup of sugar, and when it boils pour it over half a cup of cream, plain or whipped.

HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENT

Mixed Pickles.

String beans and cut into inch lengths; cut cauliflower into clusters; skin tiny button onions; wash and wipe the smallest cucumbers. Pack all down in a stone jar, then cover with cold brine that will bear up an egg. Leave the pickles in this for three days, stirring up from the bottom of the jar twice a day. Drain and pour cold water over them and stand in a cool place for twenty-four hours longer. Drain and pack the vegetables in quart jars. Have ready boiling vinegar in which have been boiled for ten minutes a dozen each of whole cloves and peppercorns, four blades of mace and two tablespoonfuls of mustard seed. Fill the jars with boiling vinegar, add a tablespoonful of sugar for each quart of vinegar and screw on the covers. Stand for three months before using.

Stuffed Tomato Salad.

Select perfect fruit with stems on. Remove a slice from stem end, then remove the pulp very carefully and use this to make the gelatine jelly. Fill the shells with chicken, shrimp or cabbage salad; replace tops; drop tomatoes into cups which will leave an inch all around. Simmer the pulp with one pint of hot water, spices and herbs, salt, paprika, for ten minutes; strain; add two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, soften in little cold water; when dissolved add enough vinegar to suit; place a tablespoonful in bottom of cups; set on ice to become firm; then fill cups and let become firm on ice. When ready to serve, dip into hot water a second and lift out onto bed of cress.—What to Eat.

Soft Shell Clams Fried.

This is a large kind of clam with a brittle shell. Cut off the leathery dark portion that projects from the shell and remove with knife and fingers the beard and string from the inside. This leaves the clam in the ring shape in which they come to market sometimes strung on twine. Put them as they are taken out of the shell into a pan of cold water. When wanted dry them between two towels, dip in beaten egg with a little water in it and then in cracker meal and fry in hot lard the same as oysters. Drain in a colander. Serve piled along the middle of a large dish with a quartered melon and curled parsley for garnish.

Devil's Food.

Half a cupful each of grated chocolate, sweet milk and brown sugar, boiled together until as thick as cream. Set aside to cool. Cream a half cup of butter with a half cup of brown sugar, beat in two whipped eggs, add two-thirds of a cup of milk and flavor with vanilla. Now beat in the boiled mixture and two cupfuls of flour that have been twice sifted with a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Bake in layers, put in chocolate filling between the layers when cold and cover with a boiled icing.

Iced Chocolate.

Put two heaping tablespoonfuls of cocoa into double boiler, and add gradually a pint of water. Cook and stir about five minutes, beat thoroughly, add half a pint of cream whipped lightly and stand aside to cool. When cold, fill a chocolate or sherbet cup one-third full of finely chopped ice and a little powdered sugar, then pour in the chocolate, cap it with a tablespoonful of sweetened whipped cream and serve.—Good Housekeeping.

Orange Jelly.

Scrub the oranges well with a vegetable brush and warm water. Cut in halves and squeeze out juice on glass drill, strain, add one and one-fourth pounds of granulated sugar to each pint of juice, and boil twenty minutes, or until a thick jelly forms when a little is cooled. If the oranges are very sweet, add juice of one lemon to each half dozen oranges.

Currant Shrub.

Heat red or black currants until the juice runs freely, squeeze the fruit and to each quart of the liquid allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar; stir the juice and sugar until the latter is dissolved, and when the mixture is cold, add a thinly sliced cucumber and the beaten whites of two eggs. Serve in a tall cut glass pitcher half filled with cracked ice.

A Good Beginning

If the blood is in good condition at the beginning of the warm season, you are prepared to resist disease and are not apt to be troubled with boils, pimples, blackheads and blotches, or the itching and burning skin eruptions that make one's life a veritable torment and misery.

Now is the time to begin the work of cleansing and building up the blood and strengthening the weak places in your constitution. During the cold winter months we are compelled to live indoors and breathe the impure air of badly ventilated rooms and offices. We over-work and over-eat, and get too little out-door exercise, and our systems become clogged with impurities and the blood a hot-bed of germs and humors of every kind, and warm weather is sure to bring a reaction, and the poisonous matter in the blood and system will break out in boils and pustules or scaly eruptions and red, disfiguring bumps and pimples. Make a good beginning this season by taking a course of S. S. S. in time; it will not only purify your blood and destroy the germs and poisons, but promote healthy action of the Liver and Kidneys and give you a good appetite at a time when you need it most.

S. S. S. improves the digestion and tones up the Stomach, and you are not continually haunted by the fear of indigestion, sour [illegible] and sleeplessness. There is no reason to dread the coming of warm weather if you have your system well fortified and the blood in a normal, healthy condition. It is the polluted, sluggish blood that invites disease germs, microbes and poisons of every kind and bring on a long train of spring and summer ailments, break down the constitution, and produce weakness, lassitude, and other debilitating disorders.

Eczema, Acne, Nettle-rash, Poison Oak and Ivy, and other irritating skin troubles are sure to make their appearance unless the humors and poisons are antidoted and the thin, acid blood made rich and strong before the coming of warm weather.

A course of S. S. S. now would be a safe precaution and a good beginning and enable you to pass in comfort through the hot, sultry months and escape the diseases common to spring and summer. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and is recognized as the best blood purifier and the most invigorating and pleasant of all tonics. Write for our book on "The Blood and Its Diseases."

HORRIBLY AFFLICTED WITH BOILS.

I had a horrible attack of boils that broke out all over my body and from which I could get no possible relief until I began taking your medicine, and from my experience I can safely say S. S. S. is the best blood purifier in the world.

Mrs. M. P. SMYTHERS, Wytheville, Va.

THE BEST TONIC AND APPETIZER.

While living in Sherman, Tex., I became a victim of impure, watery blood. I ran down in appetite and energy; was scarcely able to get about and had to stop off and rest occasionally. I took S. S. S. and began to improve at once, and after a thorough course became strong and well.

I think S. S. S. the best medicine if you have your system well fortified Threadneedle Street.

Threadneedle street is a corruption of Thridenal street, meaning the third street from "Chepesyde" to the great thoroughfare from London bridge to "Bushop Gate" (consisting of New Fyshe streate and Bushop Gate streate, Anglo-Saxon, thridda, third). Another etymology is Thrig-needle (three needle street), from the three needles which the Needle Makers' company bore in their arms. It begins at the Mansion House, and therefore the Bank of England stands in it. The directors of the Bank of England were called "the old lady in Threadneedle street" by William Cobbett because, like Mrs. Partington, they tried with their broom to keep back the Atlantic waves of national progress. After giving the foregoing, Brewer notes the following extract from Dickens' "Dr. Marigold:" "A silver curl paper that I myself took off the shining locks of the ever beautiful old lady of Threadneedle street" (a bank note).

The United States Capitol.

The United States capitol at Washington is one of the most majestic buildings in the world. It was first begun in 1793, when the north wing was founded. This was finished in 1800, and the south wing was begun in 1811. The building was burned by the British in 1814, and rebuilding did not begin until 1817. In 1851 the new extensions began, the house of representatives first occupying its present hall in 1857, the senate its present quarters in 1859. The dome was constructed between 1856 and 1865. The cost of the building has exceeded $30,000,000. The dome is 307 feet high and 135 in diameter, contains 4,000 tons of iron, arranged to move during atmospheric changes like the unfolding of a lily.

The rotunda beneath is 96 feet in diameter and 180 feet high. The extreme length of the building is 751 feet; extreme breadth, 324 feet. It covers 153,112 square feet of ground. The architecture is of the Corinthian order; the material of the central structures yellowish sandstone painted white, of the wings white marble, tinged with blue.

How Tennyson Decided a Matter.

Here is Tennyson's own account to Mr. James Knowles, editor of the Nineteenth Century, of how he was offered and accepted the laureateship: "The night before I was asked to take the laureateship, which was offered to me through Prince Albert's liking for my 'In Memoriam,' I dreamed he came to me and kissed me on the cheek. I said in my dream, 'Very kind, but very German.' In the morning the letter about the laureateship was brought to me and laid upon my bed. I thought about it through the day, but could not make up my mind whether to take it or refuse it, and at the last I wrote two letters, one accepting and one declining, and threw them on the table and settled to decide which I would send after my dinner and bottle of port."

"Microscopist" is usually pronounced mi-cros-co-pist, is a horror of articulation, besides concealing the plain meaning and derivation of the word. But if we first say "micro" and then "scopist," taking care to place the stress on the first syllable, we get easiness, pleasantness and common sense. There are hosts of others, but none quite so terrible as "microscopist" as it is commonly pronounced or tried to be pronounced, for it reigns in a sort of pinched, rheumatic, splendid isolation, "high on a throne of royal state, by merit raised to that bad eminence."—Verax in London News.

Good Judgment.

The City Trustees made a very popular move at their meeting last Wednesday evening, when they asked for bids for the laying of pipe and the fixing of hydrants in the plaza. There is probably no other public improvement that would be more thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by our people and the thousands of visitors to the valley than the beautifying of Sonoma's plaza, which is now a certainty, as the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club will do all in their power (a potent factor) to assist in carrying out the good work of making the historic square "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Don't Be Afraid of Work.

One thing that keeps young men down is their fear of work. They aim to find genteel occupations, so they can dress well, not soil their clothes and handle things with the tips of their fingers. They do not like to get their shoulders under the wheel, and they prefer to give orders to others or figure as masters and let some one else do the drudgery. There is no doubt that indolence and laziness are the chief obstacles to success.

When we see a boy who has just secured a position take hold of everything with both hands and "jump right into his work" as if he meant to succeed, we have confidence that he will prosper. But if he stands around and asks questions when told to do anything; if he tells you that this or that belongs to some other boy to do, for it is not his work; if he does not try to carry out his orders in the correct way; if he wants a thousand explanations when asked to run an errand and makes his boss think the whole thing himself, one feels sure that he is discharging he is consuch a boy on the spot, convinced that he was not cursed with success. That boy will believe. There mediocrity or will be room for the lazy is no place in this country for the man. He will be pushed to the wall.—Success.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attact of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's new discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yeild to Dr. King's new discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by Shoults. Trial bottles free.

Board of Supervisors.

It seems that the Board of Supervisors of Sonoma county have managed to get along very economically compared with other counties. While the State tax rate of $.561 on the hundred is higher by $.179 than it was last year, our State and county rate remains the same, $1.60 on the $100 of assessed valuation of property. This rate compares very favorably with the other large counties of the State.

WATCHING

For the husband's homecoming does not usually outlast the early months of marriage. And this not because of any lessening of affection, but because the wife finds the time for the evening meal come before she is ready for it. She blames herself for her lack of energy, but the truth is that her vitality is being reduced by unhealthy drains, and the labor that seemed so light a few months ago now taxes all her strength.

Women who feel weak and tired out will find new strength in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"In April 1900 my strength gave out and I was obliged to go to bed, suffering with female weakness, also had ulcers and inflammation," writes Mrs. Ellen D. Rollin, of Pierceville, Ripley Co., Ind. "I tried a physician's remedy for a month but got no better—only weaker. Tried another medicine six weeks, but got no better; was quite discouraged. My husband got me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I began taking it, and in two months I was able to do my housework. Took twelve bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' also four of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I regained my strength and weigh twenty-five pounds more than I ever did before."

A SUICIDE AT GLEN ELLEN

Young Man Shoots Himself in a Store Wednesday Afternoon.

Last Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock W. B. Burling committed suicide in the store of A. M. Hardman at Glen Ellen by shooting himself with a 32 caliber revolver in the left side below the ribs.

His bride of less than a week was in the store at the time, as was also A. M. Hardman, the proprietor, who was at the phone sending a message when the rash act was committed.

The unfortunate man had just kissed his wife a moment before he went into the back room of the store and committed the fatal deed.

Dr. Crepin was immediately summoned, but all his skill was in vain for the wound was fatal. The man was taken to the home of R. P. Hill at Eldridge, but only survived one hour after inflicting the wound.

No cause is assigned for the awful deed, but it is thought that ill health had temporarily deranged the unfortunate man's mind.

The sincerest sympathy of the entire community goes out to the grief-stricken bride in her great and sudden bereavement.

Coroner Blackburn was immediately notified of the occurrence and upon arriving held an inquest, the result of which was in accordance with the facts as related above.

The remains were shipped to San Francisco for interment to-day.

Worse Yet.

A young man with a tallowy complexion, blotched face and slender legs called at a doctor's office to consult him.

"Doctor," he said, "I've heard there's such a thing as tobacco heart. I wish you would tell me if you think that's what I've got."

The physician listened to a statement of his symptoms in detail, noted the yellow stain on his fingers and replied:

"No, young man, it isn't 'tobacco heart' that ails you. It is worse than that. It is cigarette brain."—Youth's Companion.
